

Dear FCC,

I am concerned that lifting the cross-ownership ban will adversely affect the American public by making U.S. media less diverse, more commercial, and less accountable to the public. The FCC bears the responsibility for preventing the overwhelming concentration of media ownership -- I sincerely hope that you don't let the American people down. The cross-ownership restrictions should be maintained in the public interest.

Respectfully,
Tabatha Yeatts